Work Experience

OneStudyTeam

June 2025 - Present

Software Engineer

- Building scalable microservices in frontend and backend within cross-functional squads.
- Integrated OpenSearch for advanced search capabilities and improving user experience and data retrieval efficiency.
- Designed and implemented event-driven microservice architecture using Apache Kafka to enable real-time communication and seamless data flow between services.
- Optimized application responsiveness by leveraging Redis for caching and PostgreSQL as the primary relational database, reducing query latency and improving system throughput.

Helpshift Technologies
